Summary

Focused on advancing knowledge and expertise in Geography, GIS, Remote Sensing, Geographical Data Science, and Analysis, I am deeply committed to teaching and conducting research in these fields. With a keen interest in leveraging data-driven approaches for informed decision-making, I specialize in crafting maps that facilitate effective analysis and interpretation of spatial information.

My professional journey includes serving as an Assistant Professor of Geography at the Postgraduate and Research Department of Geography, Government College Chittur, Palakkad, Kerala, since 2020. Prior to this, I held the position of Assistant Professor and Head of the Department at the Department of Geography, Government College Manjeshwaram, Kasaragod, Kerala, from 2017 to 2020. During the period from 2012 to 2017, I provided consultancy services in GIS and Geo data to diverse institutions.

Academically, I have pursued both my undergraduate and postgraduate studies in Geography and Geographical Data Science. Currently, I am actively engaged in pursuing a doctoral degree in Geography with a specialization in Deep Learning, aiming to further contribute to the intersection of geography and cutting-edge technology.
